A young marksman draws a bead with a 30-caliber machine gun, one of several weapons displayed yesterday at the Levittown Shop-A-Rama. There was also a NIKE guided missile on hand.

Another youngster takes aim with the 30-caliber weapon and prepares to squeeze the trigger. It was a preview of "Power For Peace," planned nationwide this coming Saturday.

This is a brother-and-sister operation, but brother is at the wrong end. Capt. James F. Rennie and officers of the Bristol Reserve Center arranged the preview.

The sergeant shows this boy how to take aim with the Army's bazooka. Co. B., of the 315th Infantry Regiment, staged the show. It drew hundred of spectators.

Township Taxes To Hike Monthly Mortgages By $3

Increased real estate taxes will cost Levittown residents of Bristol Township between $3 and $3.60 more in their monthly mortgage payments.

Bristol Township school board last week officially adopted its new budget calling for a 14-mill increase in the real estate tax rate. This brings the school tax rate to 61. The increase amounts to $31.50 more a year on Levittowner and Rancher homes.

In addition the township Board of Commissioners put through a net raise of two mills, or $4.50 a year on the two types of homes assessed at $2250.

As a result mortgage companies will require about $3 more each month for Levittowners and Ranchers, while owners of Jubilees, which are assessed at $2700 will have to pay about $3.60 each month.

Levittowners in Middletown Township will be in for a yearly increase of $5.46, for Jubilees assessed at $3750. This will also probably be reflected in slight increases in monthly payments.

The tax picture is not complete in Falls Township and Tullytown. Both school boards have not officially adopted a tax rate yet but slight increases are expected.

Middletown's real estate tax will hit $163.80 for Jubilees and $225 for Country Clubbers. In addition, the school board levies personal and per capita taxes on residents.

Israel Ship Ready To Go Through Suez

Test Case At 'Any Moment' May Start Trouble

JERUSALEM (UP)—Israel readied a Suez Canal "test ship" today and informed sources said it could enter the controversial waterway at "any moment."

The sources said the only thing holding up the Israeli test of Egypt's blockade was French reluctance to fall in line with other maritime nations who have given their shippers permission to use the canal.

"But talks on this matter are now being completed which will probably enable the Israeli government to go ahead at any moment," the sources said.

At the same time Israeli officials enforced security measures reminiscent of the clampdown on news during the recent Gulf of Aqaba emergency.

Foreign Office Spokesman Moshe Leshem denied he "ever told" any foreign newsmen that an Israeli test ship was due to sail through the canal. But Western sources believed this was one of the topics discussed when U.S. Ambassador Edward Lawson met Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir here Monday.

Leader Seen Vetoing Killing Of Wage Tax

Gov. George M. Leader is expected to veto a House-approved bill outlawing Philadelphia's wage tax on non-residents. The measure was passed by the Republican Senate in a 27-18 party-line vote and sent to the Governor for action.

Governor Leader will probably veto the bill, observers close to the Commonwealth's chief executive said. The bill would cost the city an estimated $14,000,000 a year in tax revenue now collected from 140,000 workers who live out of the city but work in the city.

Beat Down Amendments
The GOP leadership beat down amendments which would have made the exemption of non-residents applicable to any community levying a wage tax.

However GOP members offered to sponsor separate legislation of this type but refused to hold up the specific Philadelphia exemption bill.

During debate on the measure Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) termed the Philadelphia wage levy "a malicious tax, hated by everybody."

"Don't Love Taxes"
"We love the City of Brotherly Love," Watkins said, "but we don't love to pay its taxes."

Philadelphia Democratic senators contended that should the bill be enacted it will cost Philadelphia 14 million dollars a year in tax revenues. Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth has indicated.

Potts was arrested by Bristol township police on Jan. 28 after he was spotted going 60 miles an hour on Route 13. Contracted Joseph Sirianni, presently painting both standpipes, will be engaged to tear down the top half for $1200. He will take down the bottom half when the new standpipe is ready for $800.

The borough will pay for the work from funds allocated for the painting and repair job being done on the standpipes.

The standpipe will operate normally despite the loss of 70 feet of the structure.

Filtered In Plant

Water from the structure is not used for drinking, but is filtered through the borough filtration plant across the street.

Morrisville's Borough Council will meet in regular session tonight to examine all aspects of the standpipe situation and possibly to close the books, one way or another, on the Washington Street extension.

The meeting is set for the borough hall at 8 p.m.

Bath Road Unit Fears Tax Hike For Stadium

The Bath Road Community Association voted to oppose any plan to build an athletic stadium for the high schools if it means an increase in taxation.

At its regular meeting in the Lafayette School, members were indignant at attempts by certain school groups to build a $1,000,000 stadium without regard to the wishes of the residents. However, the Association was not opposed to raising the money by private subscription, but felt that the million-dollar plan was beyond the means of the community.

Boy Scouts "Switch" To Entertain Mothers

Boy Scouts of troop 140, sponsored by the Grandview Estates Civic Association, will pull "a big switch" Friday night when they entertain their mothers at a "Mother's Night" at the Scout house on Wilkes Drive.

George Hageman, advisor of the group, said the ceremonies will begin at 7 p.m. with the Scouts treating their mothers with refreshments and bringing them up to date on the progress of the troop.

The house on Wilkes Drive and Rennard Lane has been donated by the Grandview Estates Corp., builders of the development, for use by the Scouts. The Scouts previously used the Community House on Deloro Drive for their meetings.

Mr. Hageman also announced that a new crew is being formed for the explorer Troop 140.

Officers of the new group are Robert Sears, president; William Zeller, secretary; Frank Locket, crew leader; and Robert Jackson and William Berner, directors.

Any boy over 14 years of age may contact Mr. Hageman or Morris Duermeyer, Scoutmaster, for further information.

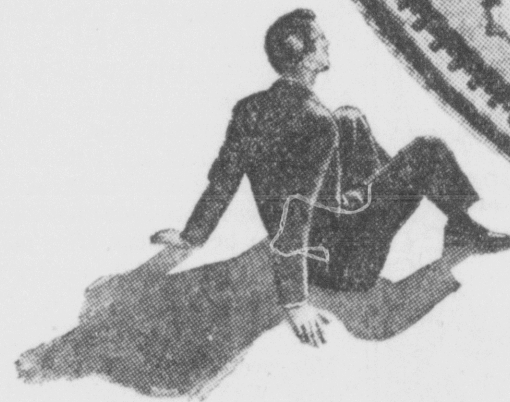

Leader Studies Bill On Bars Closing Time

HARRISBURG — UP — Gov. George M. Leader today studied legislation, which would permit holders of state liquor licenses to operate their establishments on standard time in daylight saving time communities.

The bill would allow liquor licenses to choose to operate under standard time, thus permitting their establishments to serve customers from 8 a.m. to 3 a.m. daylight time.

The proposed law, however, would be optional, rather than mandatory, and would be effective immediately upon Leader's signature.
